

Opdrachtgever
Synchroon (voorheen Hopman Interheem Groep)

Locatie
Volendamlaan
Den Haag
Netherlands

Project type architecture

Funcities residential

Kosten
€ 11.478.150,-

17.481 m²

Project status completed

Periode
1997 - 2003

Oplevering
2003

beeld: luuk kramer

Housing complex Hage Hoek, The Hague

This housing project is situated on the crossing of two main routes, the Volendamlaan and the Oude Haagweg. The border of this area consists of one large volume along the Volendamlaan, the other of a row of houses including office space.

These two elements form an intermediary to a quieter, inner area. Here one can breathe the peaceful atmosphere reminding of the so called 'Haagse Hofjes' from older days.

Here 4 volumes of houses are projected; entrances are on one side, on the other side on the ground floor, in between two rows, a parking space is situated with gardens on the first floor. The section of these so called 'city houses' resemble drive-inn houses but without their typical disadvantages. In this way double use of space is a fact.

Ontwerpteam project architect Dorte Kristensen, Hans van Beek

design team
Johan Hendriks, Paul Verhaar, Priet Jokhan, Wessel Reinders

Projectteam
site supervision
Hopman Interheem Groep/ JLD
beheer bv

general contractor
Van Hoogevest Bouw

